UNIQUE CAMPING OPTION

The Higgins Lake KOA Campground recently added new accommodations to their campground including two new lodges and three yurts, which are a cross between a cabin and a tent that have full bathrooms, a kitchen with microwave and mini-refrigerator and sleeping room for up to six people. Owned by the Taylor family since May 2007, the facility has also added a rock climbing wall/ monkey jumper this season. In all, the facility offers 111 sites including water and electric, full hook-up and primitive tenting sites along with cabins, lodges and yurts.
