No One Knows Yurts Like Pacific Yurts™

Many park visitors want a camping experience, but aren't willing to give up their personal comforts. As a result, the popularity of rental units has soared. Parks that offer a variety of rental accommodations often enjoy great success and yurts have grown increasingly popular and profitable as a lodging alternative. Offered as either simple retreats or "luxury" accommodations with interior bathrooms and kitchenettes, they provide a unique experience that campers love and return to again and again.

Pacific Yurts combine the best experiences of tent camping and cabin life; you can hear the comforting sounds of nature while remaining warm and cozy inside. The circular yurt's wood rafters lead upward into the central dome creating an open spacious feeling with an abundance of natural light during the day. At night one can stargaze from the comfort of bed. They're popular with young people, single parent families, disabled individuals and retirees who have sold their RV but can no longer tent camp.

The unique nature of the yurt has greatly contributed to the economic success of many parks and campgrounds. This uniqueness seems to captivate recreation writers resulting in significant free press. Along with testimonials from happy campers relaying their adventure, many campgrounds have platform with entry deck. They have minimal impact on their surroundings and can be relocated if necessary, enhancing a campground's green initiatives and providing flexibility in the future. Engineered to be the strongest and most durable in the industry, the finely crafted Pacific Yurt is cost effective, and easy to set up and maintain.

Park operators can maximize the success of their yurt rental programs by converting existing campsites to more profitable yurt sites, creating highly visible yurt villages to promote their use, and by choosing Pacific Yurts as their supplier. Yurts purchased solely on price leads to frustration, ongoing maintenance costs and reduced profits.

Enjoyed by people from all walks of life, the yurt experience provides lifelong memories and keeps revenue flowing with happy campers who keep coming back for more. We invite you to join our many satisfied customers and start a new adventure in your park.
